

Lista articolelor în limba engleza

2019

1. Criteria for the diagnosis of primary immunodeficiency at the level of family doctors center
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2019, nr. 1(21), 17-16. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)

2018

2. New aspects in the clinical-immunological approach of patients with atopic dermatitis
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2018, nr. 2(20), 44-44. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)

2017

3. Gastrointestinal disorders and primary antibody deficiencies in adult patients
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2017, nr. 2(19), 98-97. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
4. The association of viral respiratory infection with wheezing in young children
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2017, nr. 1(19), 55-55. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
5. Primary immunodeficiency in children and adults - new perspectives for diagnosis and therapy in Moldova
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2017, nr. 1(19), 57-56. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)

2016

6. The immunological determinants of liver diseases induced by chronic infection of Delta virus
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2016, nr. 2(18), 104-100. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
7. Primary immunodeficiencies in Moldova: state and prospects
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2016, nr. 1(18), 48-48. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
8. The role of proinflammatory cytokines in heart failure in children in combination with pulmonary hypertension
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2016, nr. 1(18), 49-1-49. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
9. Molecular and genetic studies in the diagnosis of primary immunodeficiency
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2016, nr. 1(18), 49-2-49. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)
10. Management of immunodeficiency states and principles of its implementation in medical institutions
. International Journal on Immunorehabilitation. 2016, nr. 1(18), 50-49. ISSN 1562-3629. (Cat.)